

Make-a-£Million

Make-a-£Million! is a fast and furious competitive team building event in which teams race to be the first to produce £1,000,000 in counterfeit banknotes. Working in teams of up to 10 people, initially there is a busy strategy session during which teams are briefed before beginning their planning session.

Each team receives a counterfeiting kit containing essential equipment for the forging of banknotes. It will soon become apparent that a production line for banknotes will need to be established. If your team is to win, you will need an expert at forged signatures, a serial number stamper, a paper cutter etc.

Teams will also discover that they are short of many essential materials. They have a basic printing set but no special banknote paper on which to print their notes. Additional resources can be purchased from the TRADING STATION...however (wary of forged banknotes) the trader will only accept gold.

Teams will need to earn gold. To do this they send team members on gold earning missions...but here's the rub...to print banknotes you need gold but if you are earning gold you can't also be printing banknotes. It's a balancing act, as teams try to earn sufficient gold to finance the whole operation.

Fundraising missions are challenging active team problem-solvers set up in and around your event venue. We can make them physical and active...or cerebral and intriguing...or a mix of both; the choice is yours.

Only high quality counterfeits will be accepted at the Bank of Corruption & Commercial Ineptitude (BCCI). Regular updates keep everyone abreast of progress as teams race towards the winning million.
