

Marrakesh Treasure Hunt

Are you up for a challenge? Marrakesh, the principal tourist draw of Morocco may feel a "million miles away" in terms of culture and experience yet, at over 3 hours flying time, it could hardly be more convenient. Situated at the tip of North East Africa it is a riot of colour; a cacophony of noises and a pleasure on the senses.

Take in the hustle and bustle of the souq and market stall holders whilst you look for clues. Be taken in by the luxuriant displays of silks, tassels and carpets; the jumble of teapots, old keys, latches, doors and metal trinkets. Let your senses be overwhelmed in the spice market where you will absorb or rebuff the calls of the traders "Nice carpets"...and "Looking is free".

Your home (for small groups only) will be a traditional riad in the central medina – a haven of peace and tranquility after the hustle and bustle of the souqs. After greetings and refreshing mint tea you will be ready to tackle the Souq Scavenger Hunt. Armed with a map, compass, digital camera, set of clues and some local currency – this is a treasure hunt event with a difference.

Overcome unfamiliarity; fine tune your communication skills and, for some, draw upon those long forgotten language skills (French). Negotiate and haggle as you take in the sights and sounds

The event concludes with the treasure chest being opened, often just seconds before the final deadline is reached!

We can help to arrange flights and accommodation to ease your visit to Marrakesh. Other unforgettable attractions include the High Atlas Mountains, the spectacular Koutoubia Mosque and the famous Djemaa el-Fna square, which provides perhaps the greatest open-air spectacle in the world.

- 6 – 150 participants
- Outdoors
- Competitive
- Half-day activity
- Crack the code!

Getting new teams to gel quickly is vital in times of change, and Eventus has been fantastic in helping teams with this! Many thanks!

Ian R - Wales Leaders Forum

Team Learning:

- Planning and prioritising
- Problem-solving in teams
- Getting to know team members better
- Fully utilising all team resources