

Brecon Beacons Challenge

The Brecon Beacons Team Challenge is an ideal away day for the more adventurous team! Our base is the Brecon Beacons National Park in South Wales – easily reached from the M4 or M5 motorways and with good rail links to the rest of the country. The scenery is outstanding...a real chance to step-back from day-to-day pressures and focus on bonding as a team.

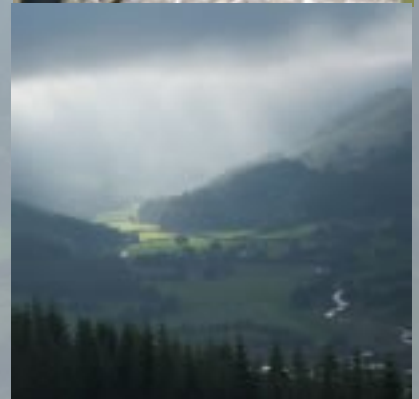

The Brecon Beacons Team Challenge is based on a journey taking in valley, hillside, mountain and subterranean passages. As the journey unfolds you will encounter team challenges. Two are major team challenges lasting an hour or two while the remainder are shorter, snappier problem solving challenges.

The first major team challenge involves an abseil descent of an impressive 70ft cliff face with stunning views out over the Usk Valley far below. On arrival at the site you meet a safety instructor who will offer guidance and monitor safety. You will be shown how to safely lifeline one another and work as a team while undertaking this challenge.

The second major team challenge takes your team into the depths of the mountain. Equipped with caving suits, wellies, helmet and miners lamp, a careful exploration of the cave will result in the recovery of another of the silver goblets. The cave is ideally suited to a group of novices. The main entrance is large, leading to an impressive main chamber. Your team selects its own route through the cave – all routes are interesting - however choosing the level of difficulty and challenge is left entirely to you. Once again an experienced cave instructor is on hand to monitor safety and offer support.

Combined with an incredible day out on the hills, the Brecon Beacons Challenge is a perfect (and perfectly memorable) day out for teams that are looking for an event with that extra something special!

- 5 - 20 participants
- In the heart of the Beacons
- Full-day activity
- Perfect for the adventurous team

I was looking for an event that would bring our director team together in an environment that was unfamiliar to them and that would challenge them both as individuals but also as a team. Mission accomplished - it was perfect.
